Come along on a mouthwatering ride and catch the spirit of pop-up cooking events with Moveable Feast with Fine Cooking, hosted by Pete Evans, an award-winning Australian chef, restaurateur, cookbook author and host of Australia's top prime time TV show. Born in Melbourne and raised on Australia's beautiful Gold Coast, Pete is not your average chef—he's also an avid fisherman, surfer, cookbook author and television personality.

Emmy®-nominated for Outstanding Culinary Series, Moveable Feast with Fine Cooking follows Pete on a culinary journey across America as he teams up with the country's most innovative chefs to source the finest regional ingredients. With fresh, local ingredients in hand they join forces and work against the clock to prepare a multi-course menu for an eclectic, enthusiastic and ravenous group of foodies.

Season One introduces cooking tips and techniques from talented chefs, including Jacques Pepin, Marcus Samuelsson and Tom Douglas, and demonstrates how to interpret their flavorful dishes in your own kitchen. Watch as diners sit down to enjoy these spectacular meals hosted in some unique places, from a New England farm to a Manhattan rooftop with an amazing skyline view. You'll want a seat at the table! 13x26

In Season Two, Pete cooks up delicious meals with expert chefs Susan Feniger, Mary Sue Milliken, Donald Link and Marco Canora, and visits a California avocado grove, a Southern plantation, a lakeside retreat and a bustling kitchen in New York's Little Italy neighborhood. 13x26

In Season Three, Pete travels from Homer, Alaska to Hawaii and New York City. In Alaska he forages for ingredients with mother-daughter chef duo Kristen and Mandy Dixon. While in Hawaii, he's joined by award-winning local chefs Jon Mastubara and LeeAnne Wong to learn how local pineapple is harvested. At the prestigious Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park, NY, Pete joins three top chefs Germano Minin, Bruno DiFabio and Tim Reardon for an Italian feast. 13x26

In Season Four, Pete Evans is back to take viewers cross country with the best chefs in America. From blue crab with Bryan Voltaggio in Maryland, to throwing a feast on the USS Midway in San Diego and cooking under the big sky of Montana, Pete takes viewers coast-to-coast and beyond to see what local, unique ingredients these states have to offer. 13x26
