

Spy in the Sky

1x57

PBS®

INTERNATIONAL

Spy in the Sky

Ix57

CONTACT

Tom Koch, Vice President
PBS International
10 Guest Street
Boston, MA 02135 USA

TEL: +1-617-208-0735
FAX: +1-617-208-0783

jtkoch@pbs.org
pbsinternational.org

In the spring of 1960, a CIA spy plane was shot down over the Soviet Union. Overnight, the plane, a U-2, became the most famous aircraft in the world. Behind the dramatic incident is the incredible tale of a team of creative engineers and courageous pilots who raced against the clock to design, perfect, and deploy the U-2, which, for a while, successfully eluded Soviet missiles and fighters to provide a high-tech peek behind the Iron Curtain.

CREDITS

Written, Produced & Directed by Linda Garmon

Photo Credit: Courtesy of Lockheed Martin Corporation

PBS[®]

INTERNATIONAL