In November 2020, American voters will go to the polls to decide whether President Donald Trump or his Democratic challenger will lead the country for the next four years. In a polarized and bitterly divided country, voter enthusiasm is already at record levels with turnout predicted to be the highest in a century. FRONTLINE’s The Choice 2020 will explore the character of the candidates by examining the formative episodes in their lives through interviews with those who know them best. An antidote to the shrill sound bites, partisan spin, and superficial coverage that have come to characterize American presidential campaigns, The Choice has earned a wide audience and a reputation for its clear, unbiased reporting. 1x114 HD

The Gene: An Intimate History, a major new documentary from Ken Burns and Barak Goodman, tells the story of the stunning revolution in genetics that is transforming medical science through the experience of patients and scientists leading the search for cures to some of the world’s rarest and most complex diseases. 4x60, 2x120 HD

For 23 days in 2002, the mysterious Washington, D.C. snipers terrorized the capitol and gripped the nation, killing at random from the trunk of their blue Chevy Caprice. Told forensically over six hours by the investigators, the victims’ families and, for the first time, the surviving shooter himself—I, Sniper is the definitive account of an iconic American crime story. 6x55 HD

America's Great Divide: From Obama to Trump
An investigation into America’s increasingly bitter, divided and toxic politics. Episode One traces how Barack Obama’s promise of unity collapsed as increasing racial, cultural and political divisions laid the groundwork for the rise of Donald Trump. Episode Two examines how Donald Trump’s campaign exploited the country’s divisions and how his presidency has unleashed anger on both sides of the divide. 4x60, 2x120 HD

Zero Tolerance
Donald Trump has made opposition to immigration the signature policy of his presidency, and used anti-immigration fervor to animate his supporters and fuel a political movement. Drawing on nearly 40 lengthy, on-camera interviews, this documentary describes how Steve Bannon, Stephen Miller and Jeff Sessions saw in the Trump candidacy a chance to roll back immigration—and how they have waged a war inside the White House to keep an unpredictable president on course. It’s a must-watch look at how America’s immigration policies—and the rhetoric and images surrounding them—reached this moment. 1x54 HD

Trump's Trade War
President Donald Trump’s decision to put tariffs on billions of dollars in Chinese imports in 2018 shocked the world—and launched a perilous confrontation between the world’s two largest economic superpowers. From FRONTLINE producer Rick Young and his team and NPR correspondent Laura Sullivan, Trump's Trade War takes viewers on the ground in both the U.S. and China, drawing on business and government insider accounts to offer an eye-opening look at the increasingly competitive rivalry between the two countries—a rivalry that extends well beyond just trade and tariffs. 1x54 HD

FIRE IN PARADISE
On November 8, 2018, the deadliest and most destructive fire in California history began. By the time it would finally be extinguished, the fast-moving Camp Fire had burned an area the size of Chicago, destroyed approximately 30,000 homes, decimated the town of Paradise, and killed 85 people. Fire in Paradise shares tales of both miraculous escape and unfathomable loss—and raises tough questions about who and what are to blame for the fire’s catastrophic toll, drawing on firsthand accounts from survivors, first responders, and local authorities, as well as harrowing footage filmed by those in the path of the inferno. Fire in Paradise examines how climate change has contributed to making fires bigger and more frequent. 1x54 HD

The Crown Prince of Saudi Arabia

“Calling the show a ‘must see’ doesn’t quite do it justice.... Mr. Smith doesn’t always get the right answers, but he always asks the right questions. He’s dogged, while never overly impassioned or indignant; he’s relentless.”—The Wall Street Journal

The Crown Prince of Saudi Arabia is an epic investigation into Mohammed bin Salman’s ties to the murder of Washington Post columnist Jamal Khashoggi, his relationship with the U.S., his handling of dissent, and his vision for the future of Saudi Arabia. This two-hour program features on-the-ground reporting from veteran FRONTLINE correspondent Martin Smith (Bitter Rivals: Iran and Saudi Arabia), who has been covering the Middle East for FRONTLINE for nearly two decades. 2x52, 1x112 HD

Retro Report

In today’s 24-hour news cycle, with breaking headlines, all-news networks and online outlets constantly competing for attention, Retro Report widens the discussion, revealing the story behind the story, in order to gain new insights and shed perspective on events that are still resonant today. Each episode explores four distinct stories, together with a special weekly segment featuring the wit and wisdom of author and comedian Andy Borowitz. Topics include how Colin Kaepernick’s bended knee during the national anthem was deeply rooted in the 1968 Mexico City Olympics protest, why the U.S. government spends nearly $50 million a year to care for approximately 100,000 wild horses thanks to an obscure law passed more than 50 years ago, how the modern-day recycling movement was fueled by a news story about a barge full of garbage in the 1980s, and the tragic story behind why modern U.S. drug approval laws are so strict. 8x60 HD

Supreme Revenge

The brutal, partisan conflict over President Donald Trump’s nomination of Justice Brett Kavanaugh has helped to infect the Supreme Court with Washington’s toxic politics. Now FRONTLINE reveals how the Kavanaugh clash is the latest battle in a decades long war for control of the Court. Drawing on interviews with senators and other senior officials, the film shows how a deeply felt, 30-year-old grievance drove powerful Republicans to exact revenge by maneuvering to secure conservative control of the Supreme Court—part of a battle that has undermined confidence in one of the most vital institutions in American democracy. 1x54 HD

McCarthy: Power Feeds on Fear

McCarthy chronicles the rise and fall of Joseph McCarthy, the Senator who tested the limits of American decency and democracy. Free of restraint or oversight, he conducted a crusade against those he accused of being Communists and enemies of the state, a chilling campaign marked by groundless accusations, bullying intimidation, grandiose showmanship and cruel victimization. Finally, after years in the headlines, he was brought down by his own excesses and overreach. He died a broken man, but his name lived on. For more than half a century, it has been linked to an all-too-familiar phenomenon, the modern-day witch hunt we call McCarthyism.

Chasing The Moon

Chasing the Moon, a film by Robert Stone, recasts the Space Age as a fascinating stew of scientific innovation, political calculation, media spectacle, visionary impulses and personal drama. Utilizing a visual feast of previously overlooked and lost archival material—much of which has never before been seen by the public—the film features a diverse cast of characters who played key roles in these historic events.

The Vote

The Vote is the dramatic story of the fiery and unrelenting campaign to grant women the right to vote, a transformative cultural and political movement that resulted in the largest expansion of voting rights in U.S. history. In its final decade, from 1909 to 1920, the movement wrestled with contentious questions about the most effective methods for affecting social change, as leaders debated the use of militant, even violent tactics. The battle for the vote also upended previously accepted ideas about the role of women in American culture and society and challenged the definitions of citizenship and democracy. Exploring how and why millions of 20th-century Americans mobilized for—and against—women’s suffrage, The Vote brings to life the deep controversies over gender roles and race that divided Americans—and continue to dominate political discourse today.

George W. Bush

The latest in AMERICAN EXPERIENCE’s award-winning series of presidential biographies, George W. Bush is a two-part look at the life and presidency of Bush, from his unorthodox road to the presidency through the contested election of 2000, when a Supreme Court ruling resulted in his becoming the 43rd President. The film chronicles the tumultuous events, domestically and internationally, that dominated Bush’s eight years in office—including the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, the subsequent war in Iraq, the search for weapons of mass destruction, Hurricane Katrina, and the most serious financial crisis since the Great Depression.
By the close of the Industrial Revolution, our food supply was tainted with frauds, fakes and legions of new and untested chemicals, dangerously threatening the health of consumers. Based on the book by Deborah Blum, The Poison Squad tells the story of government chemist Dr. Harvey Wiley who, determined to banish these dangerous substances from dinner tables, took on the powerful food manufacturers and their allies. Wiley embarked upon a series of bold and controversial trials on 12 human subjects who would become known as the “Poison Squad.”
The Feud
The feud between the Hatfields and McCoys is perhaps the most famous family conflict in history. As legend has it, two neighboring families in the backwoods of Appalachia waged a crude and bloody war against each other over a stolen hog, an illicit romance, and longstanding grudges. Once it started, there was nothing to stop the spiral of murder: no social mores against violence, no legal or political institutions in control, no personal religious values holding people back. Yet as this program reveals, the legend belies the truth. Both the Hatfields and McCoys were entrepreneurs seeking to climb up from hardship after fierce economic competition and rapid technological change had turned their lives upside down.

The Man Who Tried to Feed the World
In 1966, drought and an exploding population confronted India with the imminent threat of a severe famine—a potential disaster that many saw as a warning of global catastrophes to come, as the world’s population outstripped its ability to produce food. In search of a lasting solution, India turned to Norman Borlaug, an unassuming plant breeder from Iowa whose combination of scientific knowledge and raw determination had led him to create a high-yield, fungus-resistant, any-season, all-purpose variety of wheat that could revolutionize a country’s food production. The Man Who Tried to Feed the World recounts the story of the man who would not only solve India’s famine problem but would go on to lead a “Green Revolution” of worldwide agriculture programs estimated to have saved one billion lives and win the 1970 Nobel Peace Prize for his work.

East Lake Meadows
A PUBLIC HOUSING STORY
In 1970, the Atlanta Housing Authority opened East Lake Meadows, a public housing community on the edge of the city. Over the next 25 years, many thousands of low-income Atlantans, mostly African American, would call it home. But as public housing was abandoned and stigmatized, it became nearly uninhabitable. In the mid-1990s, it was bulldozed to make way for mixed-income housing. Through the stories of the former residents, East Lake Meadows: A Public Housing Story gives voice to some of the most marginalized people in our society and raises critical questions about how we have created concentrated poverty and limited housing opportunity for African Americans, and what responsibility we have as a people to ensure decent housing for our most vulnerable citizens.

The Siege of Mecca
On November 20, 1979, hundreds of heavily armed men took over the Grand Mosque of Mecca. Within minutes, they transformed the holiest shrine of Islam into a fortress—and a trap for almost 100,000 pilgrims inside. The ensuing 15 days of battle cost hundreds, if not thousands, of lives, shook Saudi Arabia to its foundations, destabilized the Middle East and pushed the global balance of power to the brink of collapse. After more than five years of research, with exclusive access to first-hand accounts and private archives from Arab, French, German and American military, intelligence and civilian sources, this film finally reveals what really happened during the siege, what consequences it had and how it still affects the world today.

Martin Luther: The Idea that Changed the World
Narrated by Hugh Bonneville, this rousing docudrama chronicles the story of Martin Luther’s harrowing quest to upend the power structure that had ruled Europe for a thousand years and set history on a new trajectory towards equality, universal education and women’s rights. The film also considers the darker, less known side of Luther’s legacy that led to the rise of nationalism and links to the Nazi Holocaust.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CATS & DOGS

Cat Tales
They may have stolen many hearts—and the internet—but cats can be perplexing pets. As cuddly and playful as they are aloof and uncaring, they’ve often raised the question: Did humans ever really domesticate felines? And what more can science tell us about a relationship that predates history? 1x54 HD

Dog Tales
Dogs have long been dependable companions by our sides. But it wasn’t always that way, and a look at their closest living relative, the wolf, makes it clear why. Research into dog domestication and intelligence offers clues into what the human-dog relationship is all about. And analyzing dogs’ brain activity and genes may even help answer the question of whether dogs are in it for the food—or if they really love us. 1x54 HD

Mama Twiga in the Garden of Eden
Since prehistoric times, there has been a place in the Serengeti where giraffes are permanent residents. They now share their grounds with the local impalas, Thomson’s gazelles and Grant’s gazelles. These new inhabitants live in constant danger from predators such as cheetahs, leopards, lions and hyenas, but adult giraffes are relatively safe. The giraffes’ offspring, however, are not as lucky. Mama Twiga in the Garden of Eden tells the emotional story of a mother giraffe, Mama Twiga, and the struggles of young giraffes and gazelles as they take on the risks of growing in the wilds of Swahili. 1x50 HD

African Bambi
On the great plains of Africa, predators must seize any opportunity to gain the upper hand. The cheetah and gazelle are natural opponents, both compelled by two profoundly embedded instincts—one to chase and the other to flee. This is the story of two fawns, living parallel lives—one, an impala resident in the southern acacia forests, and the other, a Thompson’s gazelle soon to be on the march with the great herds in the grasslands. Both must outrun the hunters to survive in a relentless and deadly contest in the East Africa savannah, one of the most beautiful places on Earth. 1x77 HD

The Serengeti Rules
Academy Award-winning Passion Pictures and HHMI Tangled Bank Studios present one of the most important but untold science stories of our time—a tale with profound implications for the fate of life on our planet. Beginning in the 1960s, a small band of young scientists headed out into the wilderness, driven by an insatiable curiosity about how nature works. Immersed in some of the most remote and spectacular places on Earth—from the majestic Serengeti to the Amazon jungle; from the Arctic Ocean to Pacific tide pools—they discovered a single set of rules that govern all life. Now in the twilight of their eminent careers, these unsung heroes of modern ecology share the stories of their adventures, reveal how their pioneering work flipped our view of nature on its head, and give us a chance to reimagine the world as it could and should be. 1x51, 1x84 HD

When Whales Walked: Journeys in Deep Time
They are the most iconic animals on Earth—whales and birds of prey, ferocious crocodiles and magnificent elephants. To see them is to marvel—and to ask a surprisingly challenging question: Where did these amazing creatures come from? Sixty-six million years ago, an asteroid slammed into Earth, bringing the dinosaurs’ reign to a fiery end. But from this catastrophe, tiny mammal survivors were able to emerge from the shadows and flourish. Today we live in the age of mammals, with a staggering array of species, from lions to bats to whales. But how did our predecessors evolve so rapidly and diversify into the range of creatures we know today? An astonishing new trove of fossils is finally providing some answers. NOVA takes you to Colorado, where fossils hidden inside ordinary-looking rocks provide a dramatic picture of how life rebounded in the first million years after the asteroid impact. They show how plants and animals evolved together, and how rat-sized mammals—safe from dinosaurs’ jaws—ballooned in size at an astounding rate. What the fossils tell us may transform our understanding of our fellow mammals—and how life can recover after a mass extinction.

After a decade of renewed protection, Gorongosa’s large mammal population has increased tenfold, to over 100,000 animals. The Gorongosa team is trying to reframe and redefine the identity and purpose of this beautiful park in central Mozambique. By bringing large-scale, long-term health care, agriculture support, and girls’ education to surrounding communities, Gorongosa is becoming a new model for other protected areas in Africa. 1x58 HD

On the Front Line: The Rangers of Gorongosa National Park
In Mozambique’s Gorongosa National Park, a team of 260 Rangers are charged with protecting this beautiful conservation area from a host of threats such as poaching and illegal logging. Hundreds of candidates from local communities gather to participate in the intensive physical and mental examinations required to be considered eligible to become a Gorongosa Ranger. For the first time in the history of the park, women were able to sign up for the job. This documentary tells the inspiring story of the rangers who are chosen to proudly wear the uniform. 1x57, 1x84 HD

Earth is alive because of liquid water and the human story is intimately connected to our relationship with it. But the growth of our civilizations has created a dangerous dependence on a precious resource that may be about to run out.

EPISODE ONE: PULSE There's an inseparable bond between water and life. But the world is changing and the pulse between the two is faltering. See how the flow of water is driven by its relationship with life.

EPISODE TWO: CIVILIZATIONS Examine a new theory that puts water at the center of how humans first stood upright, see how civilizations are dictated by their relationship to rivers, learn how “virtual water” has hidden the consequences of excess water use, and more.

EPISODE THREE: CRISIS What’s it like to live in a world without access to water? Investigate global changes in storms across America, the over-use of aquifers around the world, the “mining” of underground water for profit, and more.

Saving the Dead Sea

There’s no place on Earth like it. Cleopatra attributed her beauty to its secrets and King Herod built one of the world’s first health spas on its shores. Now this wonder of the world is dying. Since 1976, its level has declined by more than 65 feet. Its coastline is pockmarked with thousands of sinkholes. Can the Dead Sea be saved? After more than a decade of research and debate, scientists, engineers and political leaders have come up with a daring plan, one that could not only save the sea but help bring stability to a region rife with conflict. NOVA follows this unprecedented endeavor as scientists and engineers race to save the Dead Sea and help bring water to one of the driest regions on Earth. 1x54 HD

Mass Extinction: Life at the Brink

Mass Extinction: Life at the Brink joins scientists around the globe as they unravel the mysteries of two of the most dramatic mass extinctions—the “K/T Extinction” that wiped out the dinosaurs, and “The Great Dying,” which obliterated nearly 90% of all Earth’s species. As different as they seem, these two extinctions share uncanny similarities and a message for today. Could the impact of human beings be just as devastating to the planet as a massive asteroid strike or volcanic eruptions? 1x51 HD
Decoding da Vinci

Leonardo da Vinci was the quintessential Renaissance man, accomplished in engineering, fine art, and biology, among other disciplines. Today, his centuries-old “inventions” seem to predict our modern age: contraptions similar to parachutes, army tanks, hang gliders, and robots fill his notebooks. But the man and the techniques behind masterpieces like “Mona Lisa” remain a mystery. On the 500th anniversary of da Vinci’s death, NOVA goes to Italy to explore his life and work. Then, in the basement of the Louvre, scientists and art restoration experts deploy cutting-edge technology to (digitally) peel back the layers of da Vinci’s works. Ultimately, they’ll reveal the impact of his science on his art and his art on his science. 1x55 HD

Can Alzheimer’s Be Stopped?

Alzheimer’s disease strikes at the core of what makes us human: our capacity to think, to love, and to remember. The disease ravages the minds of over 40 million victims worldwide, and it is one of the greatest medical mysteries of our time. Join investigators as they gather clues and attempt to reconstruct the molecular chain of events that ultimately leads to dementia, follow key researchers in the field who have helped to develop the leading theories of the disease, and meet the researchers testing therapies that may slow and even prevent Alzheimer’s. 1x53 HD

Something In The Air

Pollution is killing tens of thousands of people every day around the world. Cities across Asia and Europe have had to shut down and stop traffic to manage “Airpocalypse” pollution events when the air is unsafe for the people who live there. But air pollution is a major killer everywhere, even places we think of as safe. Pollution causes a range of respiratory diseases, and even short exposure can change how our DNA functions. New science is finding that microscopic bits of air pollution may be able to travel from your nose directly into your brain, and could be causing dementia in humans. How unsafe is the pollution we can’t even see? Something in the Air explores these and other questions about the most precious resource we have—air. 1x52 HD

Power Trip: The Story of Energy

The story of how societies rise can be told by tracing the story of energy. Power Trip: The Story of Energy explores humanity’s most important resource by revealing the energy embedded in our water, food, wealth, cities, transportation and war. As our modern world faces growing demand for and worsening environmental impacts from energy, we are at a crossroads and the stakes are high. But history shows us that energy’s great value is that it allows societies to reinvent themselves. Filmed in stunning locations around the world, Power Trip explores how energy has transformed societies of the past and offers wisdom for today’s looming energy crisis. Energy advances always come with costs, some of which won’t be seen until centuries later. Our current energy crisis is real, but it is solvable. We have the power. 6x60 HD

Polar Extremes

In this two-hour special, renowned paleontologist Kirk Johnson takes us on an epic adventure through time at the polar extremes of our planet. Following a trail of strange fossils found in all the wrong places—beech trees in Antarctica, hippo-like mammals in the Arctic—Johnson uncovers the bizarre history of the poles, from mile-high ice sheets to warm polar forests teeming with life. What caused such dramatic changes at the ends of the Earth? And what can the past reveal about our planet’s climate today—and in the future? 2x59, 1x114 HD
The Dead Sea Scrolls are one of the greatest archeological finds of all time. First discovered in a cave by a Bedouin shepherd boy in 1947, these fragile parchment relics were written around the time of Christ two millennia ago and include the oldest known versions of the Hebrew Bible. They not only reveal that early Judaism was far richer and more varied than previously thought, but also hold vital clues to the birth of Christianity. But who compiled them and do more scrolls await discovery? While certain scrolls have survived intact, others have been ravaged by time—burnt, decayed, or torn into pieces—and remain an enigma. Now, scientists are using new technologies to read the unreadable, solve mysteries that have endured for millennia, and even discover million-dollar fakes! Discover where science and scripture converge, on NOVA’s Dead Sea Scroll Detectives. 1x54 HD

Mysteries of Sleep
From fruit flies to whales, virtually every animal sleeps. But why? Why do we need to spend nearly a third of our lives in such a vulnerable, defenseless state? Scientists are peering more deeply into the sleeping brain than ever before, discovering just how powerful sleep can be, playing a role in everything from memory retention and emotional regulation to removing waste from our brains. So why are we getting so little of it? 1x60 HD

Cuba’s Cancer Hope
When the U.S. trade embargo left Cuba isolated from medical resources, Cuban doctors were forced to get creative. Now they’ve developed lung cancer vaccines that show so much promise, some Americans are defying the embargo and traveling to Cuba for treatment. In an unprecedented move, Cuban researchers are working with U.S. partners to make the medicines more widely available. 1x60 HD

The Truth About Fat
For generations, fat has been the enemy, and overweight individuals have been stigmatized and shamed. But scientists are coming to understand fat as a fascinating and dynamic system akin to an organ—one whose size has more to do with biological processes than personal choices. Through real life stories, explore how fat plays a role in hormone production and can even affect hunger levels and a woman’s ability to get pregnant. 1x60 HD

The Last Artifact
It affects every aspect of our lives from the moment we are born, to the food we eat, the cars we drive, and the medicines we take. This object has helped send men to the moon, and satellites into space. It is an object unlike any other, the last of its kind. A literal constant in an ever-changing world, and the weight by which all others are measured—until now. This remarkable object will be resigned to history. This is the story of how the weight of the world has been redefined. 1x60 HD
Inside the Megafire
From the frontline of an active wildfire to the fire labs of researchers, Inside the Megafire reveals a burgeoning crisis: an unprecedented rise of massive wildfires across the globe. Weaving together the tense tail of the most destructive fire in California, the film addresses the history, ecology, forestry, and physics that have led to dramatic increase in wildfires all over the world. 1x54 HD

The Violence Paradox
Despite the constant news of violence, from mass shootings to wars, psychologist Steven Pinker believes we may be living in one of the most peaceful periods in human existence. Could it be true that physical violence has been in decline for centuries? And can it be prevented—or is it simply part of human nature? NOVA takes you on a journey through history and the human mind to explore what triggers violence and how it may have decreased over time. Taking clues from a Kenyan archaeology site, modern laboratory experiments, and even literature, researchers trace the social and neurobiological roots of human violence. They look at how individual forces, like income equality or personal contact through sports may curb violence in modern societies. And in places like Baltimore, where violence “interrupters” treat violence like a contagious disease, NOVA examines evidence-based approaches to making the world more peaceful. 2x54, 1x115 HD

Look Who’s Driving
After years of anticipation, autonomous vehicles are now being tested on public roads all over the world. Dozens of startups have sprung up alongside established auto and tech giants—who are also testing the waters—to form what many hope will be a transformative new industry. As ambitious innovators are rushing to cash in on what they see as high tech’s next pot of gold, some experts warn there are still daunting challenges to overcome, such as how to train computers to make life-and-death decisions as well as humans can. NOVA peers under the hood of the autonomous vehicle industry to investigate how exactly driverless cars work, how they may change the way we live, and whether we will ever be able to entrust them with our lives. 1x53 HD

Your Inner Fish
This three-part series reveals a startling truth: Hidden within the human body is a story of life on Earth. That’s because the evolution of humans can be traced into the distant past, to the earliest forms of vertebrate life on land and even to the earliest forms of life on Earth. Each of us carries the genetic imprint of creatures that lived hundreds of millions of years ago. 3x55 HD

Virus Hunters
In the last half-century the number of spillover viruses has quadrupled, costing countless lives. Typically, people learn about outbreaks as sudden disconnected flare ups. But these viruses have much in common: where they come from, how they maim and kill, and how they can be controlled. By telling deeply human stories of disease victims and health care workers, Virus Hunters goes beyond the headlines to convey important, usable information about spillover viruses, at a time when viewers need it most. 1x57 HD
Joseph Pulitzer: Voice of the People
Joseph Pulitzer arrived in the United States during the Civil War as a penniless immigrant who spoke no English and proceeded to create two best-selling newspapers—and a major fortune. Pulitzer was famous for the financial success of his newspapers and his outspoken editorial voice. From the start of his career, Pulitzer championed the sacred role of free press in a democracy.

“Kids love to ask questions about how the world works,” said Linda Simensky, Head of Content for PBS KIDS. “That’s what makes Elinor Wonders Why such a perfect show for preschoolers. Kids will recognize themselves in Elinor’s boundless curiosity as she pursues the questions she wonders about—making observations and reveling in nature’s amazing answers.”

Elinor Wonders Why is an exciting new pre-school series from PBS KIDS inspiring kids to follow their curiosity, ask questions when they don’t understand, and find answers using science inquiry skills. The main character, Elinor, the most observant and curious bunny rabbit in Animal Town, will introduce kids ages 3–5 to science, nature and community through adventures with her friends. In Animal Town, Elinor and her friends meet all kinds of interesting, funny, and quirky characters, each with something to teach us about respecting others, the importance of diversity, caring for the environment, and working together to solve problems. In each episode, Elinor models the foundational practices of science inquiry and engineering design—including her amazing powers of observation and willingness to ask questions and investigate. When she encounters something she doesn’t understand, like why birds have feathers or how tiny ants build massive anthills, she just can’t let it go until she figures it out. In discovering the answers, Elinor often learns something about nature’s ingenious inventions and how they can connect to ideas in our designed world. 74x11 + 1x55 special HD
